AUTOMOBILISTS HEAVILY FINED

JUDGE CROSS FINED J. W. KEILER AND BEN WEILLE YESTERDAY.

BOTH RACED MACHINES AT DANGEROUS SPEED

S. S. MEADOWS HELD TO THE GRAND JURY IN BOND OF $500.

Robert Torian Given Continuance of Case Charging Him With Violation of License Law.

Ben Weille, the clothier, and John W. Keiler, the wholesale whisky dealer, were both fined $10 and costs yesterday morning in the police court for racing their automobiles up South Third street at breakneck speed Sunday, they tearing along at a dangerous pace that caused the people to dart here and there to prevent being run over. Both confessed to being guilty and Judge Cross assessed the penalty yesterday. It meets with the approval of everybody in the city, even many of the automobilists themselves, the latter being of the opinion that many of their number bring universal censure on the heads of all machine owners, simply by abusing the privileges accorded them.

Police Commissioner John Bonds was at his drug store on Third and Kentucky avenue, and seeing the wild and unusually dangerous manner in which the two were racing up the thoroughfare, which was well filled with people and vehicles, he proceeded to lodge against them the charge of running faster than the speed law permitted.

John Clayton was given until noon yesterday to leave the city or else undergo prosecution for disorderly conduct.

S. S. Meadows was held to the circuit court grand jury on the charge of embezzling over $100 from John Catley and company of Chicago. The bond of the accused was fixed at $500, and being unable to give it, he went to jail. He represented the Chicago firm in this city last December, and is charged with taking money and goods belonging to the firm and using it himself.

Emma Turner was given a continuance until tomorrow of the warrant charging her with false swearing. She swore under oath that her sweetheart, Floyd Harris, colored, whipped her, when it was proven that he did not.

Mattie Bradshaw, Mattie Dixon, Herman Clements and Dee Johnson were all fined $20 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Wiley Bicey, colored, was fined $20 for boarding the I. C. train at Maxon Mills and riding to the city without paying his fare. He was drunk also.

A fine of $3 and costs was assessed against Mike Wade for using insulting language towards another.

Robert Torian was given a continuance until today of the warrant charging him with doing a commission and produce business on South Second street without a city license.

E. Bryant was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

A. Garner, who ran over the boys at Fourth and Broadway with an automobile, was given a continuance until Saturday of the two warrants against him, one charging him with assault and battery, and the other with disorderly conduct. His bond was fixed at $1,000, and giving it, he was released.

WRIT OF ERROR IN RUEF CASE WITHDRAWN

San Francisco, March 25.—Abraham Ruef's attorneys have, it is said, withdrawn their writ of error filed with the United States supreme court and state that they are now anxious to proceed at once with the trial on a charge of extortion. Attorney Frank Murphy said last night:

"We have instructed our representative in Washington to withdraw the writ of error filed by us. The decision was reached on account of the decision of the state supreme court to the effect that the participation of an incompetent juror does not affect the validity of an indictment. We will proceed without further delay with the trial of Abraham Ruef."

WILL PROVE HIMSELF SANE

HARRY K. THAW IS VERY EAGER FOR A CHANCE.

Ready to Submit to All Phases of An Examination That Is Rational And Reasonable.

New York, March 25.—Counsel for H. K. Thaw, with the exception of D. M. Delmas, were in court before noon today to take whatever action is possible to convince Justice Fitzgerald that their client is not insane. Thaw's wife and mother, his brother, Jos. Thaw, and his sisters, the Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. Gertrude Carnegie, were also in the court-room sometime before Justice Fitzgerald arrived.

New York, March 25.—Briefs and possibly additional affidavits regarding the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw will be presented to Justice Fitzgerald today. The court proceedings will be brief. Besides accepting such papers as may be handed up the justice will formally adjourn the regular March term of court, which sitting has been suspended because of the Thaw trial. The time between the session of court today and Wednesday morning when the Thaw trial is scheduled to be resumed, will be spent by Justice Fitzgerald in examining the affidavits and other papers in the insanity proceedings as filed by opposing counsel so that with the resumption of the trial Wednesday the justice will be ready with his decision.

Eager for Chance.
It is stated today that if a commission in lunacy is appointed Thaw will not take advantage of the legal devices to thwart a thorough examination by such a commission. He is said to be eager for a chance to prove that he is sane. Thaw is credited with saying:

"I will submit to all phases of an examination that is rational and reasonable."

Thaw is not convinced that Justice Fitzgerald will find it necessary to appoint a commission in lunacy, but he represents the possibility of the general public inferring from the fact that his own counsel opposes District Attorney Jerome's move for the appointment of a commission, that he shrinks from the ordeal of facing such a body.

Thaw is in high spirits over the affidavits drawn in his behalf and delivered to Justice Fitzgerald. He is especially pleased with the affidavit prepared by his mother.

His Counsel Confident.
Counsel for Thaw share the prisoner's belief that Justice Fitzgerald will not find it necessary to appoint a commission.

On the other hand District Attorney Jerome is confident of the appointment of a commission and an adjournment of court on Wednesday until the commission will be prepared to present its report. Thus, Mr. Jerome, it is said, will not add to the array of affidavits which he has already placed in Justice Fitzgerald's hands and unless the latter asks for further information of the state's written argument for a lunacy commission the case will close with a presentation of Mr. Jerome's brief this morning.

Justice Fitzgerald has indicated that he does not wish to listen to verbal arguments for or against the appointment of a commission, so that the testimony of Thaw's sanity at the present time will stand or fall on the material submitted to the court this morning.

GREAT RAILROAD STRIKE APPEARS IMMINENT.

Chicago Special Seemingly Points to Death Struggle Between Operators and Men.

Chicago, March 25.—It looks today as if a strike will be declared, involving forty or fifty western roads. The following statements given out today gives the whole situation:

We will make no further concessions, but we are willing to arbitrate. If this is refused we will submit our case at the bar of public opinion. Officials of forty-two western railway systems.

We will not accept the insufficient increase offered and will not arbitrate. Conductors, brakemen and baggagemen of the railroads.

Sunday evening a $1,250 collection was pledged at the East Baptist church revival for the new building to be constructed for this congregation. The protracted meeting continues through this week, with worship each afternoon and evening by Rev. Cunningham and his assistants. Mesdames Covington, Crouse and Holcomb. Thirty-four were baptized Sunday in the back water at foot of Yelder avenue in Mechanicsburg, while fifteen are yet to be immersed.

Other Matters.

Rev. W. J. Naylor of the Paducah City Missions is now conducting a revival at the Methodist church in Little's addition, near the Union depot.

At tomorrow night's meeting of the Salvation army a baby will be given away, and a large crowd will be on hand to see who gets the infant.

County Sanitarium.

(Communicated.)

The article in one of the afternoon papers yesterday in regard to the county sanitarium is liable to be misleading, as it leaves the impression that no one ministers to the people of the sanitarium, except the county officials.

The facts are that this is one of the regular departments of W. C. T. U. work, and is under the supervision of Mrs. Ida B. Chiles who makes

ACCIDENT BY AUTOMOBILE

ARTHUR SIMON AND MAXIE MARX SERIOUSLY INJURED.

CAUGHT BY MACHINE AT FOURTH AND BROADWAY

SIMON BOY'S SKULL IS FRACTURED AND LEG BROKEN TWICE.

The Marx Child's Head Is Cut, Nose Mashed and Body Painfully Bruised—Other Injured.

Arthur, the 9-year-old son of Mr. Moses Simon of 312 Jackson street, and Maxie, the 10-year-old son of Mr. M. Marx, the clothing man of 116 South Second street, were dangerously hurt Sunday afternoon at Fourth and Broadway, when run into by one of Foreman Brothers' automobiles that was in charge of Chauffeur A. R. Garner, of that firm, who had out for a tour of the city Hub Albritton and Edward Gillan of Mayfield, and Ike Sullivan and William Henneberger of this city. Thomas E. Grasty, manager of the Paducah Loan company of South Fourth, had his leg bruised and knee twisted by the machine striking him, while Engineer James Ripley, of the ice plant, had his knee cut also. The Simon boy's skull is fractured, right leg broken in two places and shoulder and breast crushed, while the Marx child's head is cut, nose mashed and body bruised.

A park car had stopped at Fourth and Broadway to take on passengers, about fifty of whom were standing there waiting for the car. The automobile was coming down Broadway from Fifth towards Fourth, and Garner slowed up in passing through the crowd, sounding his warning horn and whistle. The Simon and Marx boys rushed out from the pavement to catch the car, and darted right in front of the automobile which knocked them down and rolled up on their bodies. Noticing them Garner threw on his brakes and stopped the touring car right over their bruised bodies, which were pulled out from underneath the machine and taken up into Dr. Jeff Robertson's office where the injuries were dressed, and the Simon lad then taken to Riverside hospital in the ambulance, while the Marx child was taken home in a carriage by Patrolman Lige Cross.

Officer Sencer arrested Garner who is charged in two warrants, one accusing him of disorderly conduct and the other with assault and battery. His bond was fixed at $1,000 and given with Foreman brothers as sureties. The cases are set for trial next Saturday, as by that time the result of the lads' injuries will be a certainty. They are not in condition to attend court now.

Garner lives at 709 South Twelfth and deeply regrets the unfortunate affair, stating he did everything possible to prevent it, but the lads rushed in front of the machine. Others say the automobile had no business forcing its way through the dense crowd.

Both boys were resting well early this morning, but the Simon lad is in a serious condition.

—Thomas Pace, aged 80 and S. S. Cope, aged 87, died Sunday at Benton and were buried yesterday in the same graveyard. They were brothers-in-law.

—Headlich Miller, a 11-year-old colored boy residing on Caldwell near Seventh street, got his foot caught between the drawheads of two freight cars in the N. C. & St. L. yards and was badly crushed.

frequent visits during the year, and seldom, if ever without carrying flowers and reading matter with her to leave with the inmates. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chiles have held religious service there a number of times during the past year, while other interested pastors have rendered similar service.

On June 9 observed everywhere as "Flower Mission Day," the W. C. T. U. have for years taken flowers to these people as regularly as the year rolls round. It is true there is room for a great deal more work along this line and it is to be hoped the work will be enlarged.

CITY INVITES GRAFT EXPOSE

PORTLAND, ORE., HAS $50,000 TO PAY HENRY AND BURNS.

Grand Jury Resumes Investigations of Alleged Bribery at Frisco Today.

Portland, Ore., March 25.—Fifty thousand dollars is being raised as an investigation fund to bring Francis J. Heney and Special Agent Burns to Portland to probe into local municipal graft transactions for years back and up to the present will be examined under the searchlight of the investigators. The nature of the transactions which the investigators wish brought to light is not specified.

See New Graft Scandals.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—The coming week promises to be as productive as the last one in sensational revelations relating to the investigation of municipal corruption that is being prosecuted by the grand jury.

It is expected that the decision will be rendered tomorrow by the United States supreme court on the petition of Abraham Ruef for a writ of error. If Ruef's petition is refused the prosecution will proceed in Superior Judge Dunne's court Tuesday with the impanelment of a jury to try Ruef on the charge of extortion in what is known as the French restaurant cases. If it is granted the trial of Ruef will be postponed.

Tomorrow afternoon the grand jury will resume its investigation of the alleged bribery of the board of supervisors by the telephone and other public service corporations.

It is announced that the prosecution has retained an attorney to proceed to Honolulu and intercept Theodore V. Halsey, who has been indicted on eleven counts on the charge of bribery, for the purpose of endeavoring to persuade Halsey to appear before the grand jury on his arrival here. Halsey is now en route from Manila in charge of a detective.

Expect Arrest of Glass.

The prosecution is expecting to hear momentarily of the arrest of Louis Glass, former manager of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, and Abraham K. Detwiler, of Toledo, O., against whom indictments for bribery, were returned yesterday. In addition to the revelations coming from the grand jury room public interest in directed toward the regeneration of the city in view of the alleged confessions of corruption by the members of the board of supervisors.

One story is to the effect that the supervisors before appearing before the grand jury secured pledges from the prosecuting officials that they would neither be prosecuted nor removed from office in return for their evidence. An intimation that those back of the prosecution were planning to assume control of municipal affairs by virtue of their power over the supervisors is strongly denied at the district attorney's office.

Does Not Want to Control.

Assistant District Attorney Heney said: "All we intend to do is to see that the supervisors behave themselves properly in their official positions. We do not intend to try to legislate through them for any purpose. We shall simply force them to be good and to discharge the functions of their office to the best interest of the people. Perchance to rehabilitate themselves if possible, and I think that if the supervisors wish to become better men, as they have expressed a desire to do, they should have a chance."

As to the prosecution controlling the municipal commissions and other departments of the government through the finance committee of the board of supervisors, Heney declared that there will be no attempt to do this. Those who favor a reorganization of the municipal government recognize that it would be lengthy process to bring it about through the courts, but are hopeful that public opinion will force wholesale resignations, thus solving an embarrassing question.

YOUNG FELLOWS' ENTERTAINMENT

UNIS ORR AND WALTER TROUTMAN ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

BOSOM FRIENDS AND BORN ON SAME DAY

DELPHIC CLUB GATHERS THIS MORNING AT THE LIBRARY.

The Magazine Club Has Called Meeting Tomorrow with Mrs. Frank L. Scott.

Quite unique and out of the ordinary will be the charming entertainment given this evening at the residence of Mr. J. Wes Troutman, the county assessor, who lives at 705 South Third street. The unusual part is that it will be the anniversary of the birth of two boys, who were born at the same hour, their fathers have the same given names, the two lads attended the same class and same school building, while they are both little Methodists, but do not happen to the same church. However, both reside of the same street.

The two young fellows who will entertain their friends at home are Unis Orr, the 13-year-old son of Mr. J. Wes Orr, the Third and Clark street grocer, and Walter, the 12-year-old son of County Assessor J. Wes Troutman. Both the boys were born at the same hour, while they both are in the fifth grade at the Fourth and Ohio streets school building. They are inseparable companions and have been for a long while. In addition they are two of the most popular and smartest little fellows attending that building, and complimentary to the anniversary of their birth they will have a number of their friends to enjoy this evening with them. They have arranged games and different amusements, while dainty refreshments will be served.

Delphic Club.

The Delphic club meet this morning at the library, at which time Mrs. Annie Hughes Morrow reports on "Spanish Schools of Painting," while Miss Ethel Morrow presents "Modern Art in Spain—Goya, Fortuny, Velasquez."

Married Sunday.

Miss Macy Fuller of Nodaway, Ala., and Mr. Frank J. Fulton of Louisville were married Sunday at the bride's home and left at once for a wedding tour through the East. Returning, they reside in Louisville where Mr. Fulton is engaged in the stove business. He was formerly manager of the big cooperage plant in Mechanicsburg, this city.

On Bridal Tour.

Mr. Burt Kern and bride of Biloxi, Miss, are visiting Messrs. J. S. and Arthur Jones, and Mrs. Flora Trotter, brothers and sister of Mrs. Kern. Mr. and Mrs. Kern were married last Tuesday at Gulfport, Miss., the bride being the pretty daughter of Mr. Edward Jones, the hotel man of that city who was formerly in the commission business on South Second street, Paducah.

Magazine Club.

There is a called meeting of the Magazine club for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with Mrs. Frank L. Scott of Ninth and Madison.

Civic Department.

Miss Adine Morton of Broadway had the Civic department of The Woman's club to meet with her yesterday, and there was outlined the "open meeting" program of April 4, which will be in charge of this department.

—Arthur Cox was taken from here to Mayfield yesterday by Marshal Charles McNutt, who came after him to serve $160 worth of fines imposed for bootlegging around there.

—Mr. John R. Roberts, the dry goods and notion dealer, expects to reopen his store for business tomorrow at 325 Broadway.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Twitchell, of 631 Willie street, have a new boy.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BURGLAR

MRS. CHAS. J. BRONSTON FIRED THREE TIMES OUT OF A WINDOW.

It Was Thought a Burglar Was Entering Bronston Home at Lexington, Ky.

Word from Lexington, Ky., states that Thursday night Attorney Chas. J. Bronston came near being shot by his wife, who was formerly Miss Belle Wisdom of Paducah, and sister of Mrs. George C. Wallace of North Ninth street. The message is as follows:

As a result of the failure of the Hon. Charles J. Bronston to find the keyhole to his front door promptly Thursday night, his wife fired three shots out of an upstairs window and thinking she might frighten away the burglar.

Patrolman Jackson, of the police force, heard the shots and thinking a burglar was in the residence, rushed up to the house, and hearing Mr. Bronston on the inside thought he had found the miscreant and tried to get through the door.

Mr. Bronston, thinking the officer was the burglar, went to the telephone and called up the station house to send the police to make a search. In the meantime the door came open and Officer Jackson, seeing Bronston and thinking still he was confronting a burglar, covered him with his revolver.

The Lydia got out Sunday for the Tennessee river after ties.

The Joe Wheeler arrived from Chattanooga Sunday and departs this afternoon on her return that way.

Second Clerk Frank Molinski of the Dick Fowler takes a similar place April 20 on the Spread Eagle when that boat leaves her winter quarters here for St. Louis to resume business. This morning at 8 o'clock the steamer Dick Fowler skips out for Cairo. She comes back tonight about 9 o'clock.

The Joe Fowler comes in today from Evansville and departs at once on her return that way.

The John S. Hopkins went to Evansville yesterday and comes back tomorrow.

The Lee Line boats resume this week after lying up a few days, and the Georgia Lee leaves Cincinnati tomorrow, getting here next Sunday on her way down to Memphis, while the Peters Lee leaves Memphis today and reaches Paducah Thursday bound up for Cincinnati.

The steamer City of Memphis came out of the Tennessee river last night and stays here until 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon before getting out on her return that way.

The Butteroff will not get in until today, having been behind time for the past week.

Considerable local interest has been aroused in the plan now being discussed in St. Louis to establish a line of steamboats running from St. Louis to New Orleans and connecting with a steamship line between the gulf ports and Mexico. If the plan is put through as now seems to be probable, it is understood that the Lee line of steamboats, which runs between here and Memphis, will make arrangements with the Gulf line to connect for Louisville traffic.

While local river men do not believe that the present condition of traffic will warrant the establishment of such a line were Louisville to attempt it alone, they concede that were it to be run between St. Louis and the gulf, in connection with Louisville, it might prove a profitable undertaking.

The development of the river and the provision for continual traffic all the year round will make such a line with the development of the inland waterways to relieve the congestion of the railroads.—Louisville Herald.

Big Suit Filed Against Sugar Trust.
Philadelphia, Pa., March 25.—In a suit filed by President Earle of the reorganized Real Estate Trust Co., sensational charges are made against the sugar trust which is charged with the responsibility of the failure of President Hipple in which the trust company lost $30,000,000. In his bill President Earle seeks to recover this sum which he charges was practically stolen from Hipple by the sugar crowd.

DON'T BELONG TO REGULARS

BUT ONLY VOLUNTEERS—NATIONAL GUARD CONVENTION AT COLUMBIA.

Number of Attaches of Foreign Legations and Many Visitors Also Present.

Columbia, S. C., March 25.—The Interstate National Guard Association, which has for its objects the betterment of the militia throughout the United States and the unification of the several organizations of the state forces, began its annual convention in this city today. Officers of the several branches of the military service of the United States, the military attaches of several of the foreign legations at Washington and the adjutant generals and other representatives of the national guard of nearly every state of the Union were present when the convention was formally called to order by the president of the association, Senator Charles Dick of Ohio, the author of the law now governing the military organizations of the various states.

In addition to President Dick the other officers of the association on hand were Gen. Armfield of North Carolina, vice-president; Col. Carroll D. Evans of Nebraska, secretary; Gen. John D. Frost of South Carolina, treasurer, and Gen. James A. Drain of the State of Washington, chairman of the executive committee.

The programme of the convention covers two days and provides for papers and discussions covering a wide variety of topics connected with the state militia. Among those who will address the gathering are a number of officers of the United States army, especially detailed for the purpose. Major Millard F. Waltz, of the general staff, will read a paper on the subject of the educational system for officers of the regular army. Major Charles McK. Saltzman, of the signal corps, will deliver a lecture before the convention on the subject of "The Signal Corps in Campaign." Col. Henry O. S. Heistand, military secretary, will read a paper on the subject of "The Military Secretary's Department as a Factor in Military Training and Its Value to the Nation." Col. Valery Haverd, assistant surgeon general of the army, will also be among the speakers.

Prominent among the national guard representatives who are scheduled for papers or addresses are Gen. Joseph Bobleter of Minnesota, Gen. Thomas R. Robertson, adjutant general of North Carolina; Adjutant General Critchfield of Ohio, who is vice president of the national board of rifle practice.

The state of South Carolina and the city of Columbia have made elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of the many distinguished visitors. An official reception and a banquet are among the features of the entertainment program.

DISCUSS CANAL.

Delegates From Various Southern States Meet at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., March 25.—Pursuant to a call issued by the New Orleans Progressive Union delegates from the various Southern states, particularly those bordering on the gulf, gathered in this city today to consider the Panama canal situation and the South's interest in the future trade to be developed by the opening of the canal. Those responsible for the conference openly express their fear that the South will be discriminated against by the big railroad and steamship companies when a readjustment of traffic conditions takes place as a result of the opening of the isthmian waterway. They hope to persuade the Panama railroad company, whose steamship service now runs out of New Orleans, Galveston and other cities of the South may receive the benefits of any additional canal trade thus secured.

When Rubber Grows Hot.

(Philadelphia Record.)
When an automobile is running at high speed the rubber tires are rapidly warmed and the heat sometimes becomes very great, with resultant injury to the rubber. The cause of this accumulation of heat in the tire is ascribed to the kneading of the rubber, which generates heat faster than it can be radiated away. For this reason manufacturers have found it to be an advantage to have metal parts in the tread, such as the ends of rivets, in contact with the tire, because the metal, being a good radiator, helps to carry off the heat to the outer air.

Ottawa to Receive Bryce.

Ottawa, Ont., March 26.—Great preparations have been made for the reception and entertainment of the Right Hon. James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington, who is expected to arrive in Ottawa tomorrow for a stay of five or six days. During his visit he will be the guest of Earl Grey at Government house. Among the several features of entertainment arranged in his honor is a banquet by the Canadian club of Ottawa.

THE DOCTOR MUST DIE

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF FATHER, MOTHER AND BROTHER

After Committing Deed the Physician Set Fire to Home to Conceal Awful Crime

Columbus, O., March 21.—Found guilty and sentenced to death for the horrible murder of his aged father, mother and brother and denounced as a "criminal whose cunning and fiendish desires have seldom been equaled in this country," Dr. Oliver Crook Haugh, a man of good family and education, is awaiting death in the electric chair two weeks hence. The supreme court has just affirmed the sentence of Dr. Haugh, who as been an inmate of the penitentiary annex for nearly a year.

Dr. Haugh was a resident of Dayton. In his early career he was highly respected and looked upon as a talented physician. But four or five years ago tales began to circulate regarding uncanny experiments with drugs being carried on in the laboratory of Dr. Haugh. In a short while it became known that the young physician himself had become a drug fiend of the worst type. Metamorphosis was wrought in the individuality of the man by the excessive use of morphine, cocaine and opium. He became haggard, wild, demoniacal. Several times he disappeared from his home. It was later asserted that the mysterious murders of women in the outskirts of Cincinnati, so closely resembling the White-chapel crimes of London, were coincident with some of these disappearances. Nothing was ever brought to light, however, to substantiate the suspicion that Dr. Haugh was connected with these crimes.

On November 5, 1905, came the triple tragedy for which the young physician seems doomed to die in the electric chair. The old family home at Vandalia, near Dayton, where the physician had gone to spend the night with relatives was burned. In the ruins were found the bodies of Haugh's father, his mother and his brother, Jesse Haugh. All had been mutilated. It was charged that the bodies had been saturated with kerosene in order to aid the work of obliteration.

The authorities charged Dr. Haugh with the murders, asserting that he had set fire to the house in order to conceal his crime. Physicians asserted that the victims had been poisoned before being burned. Of the inmates of the house on the fatal night Dr. Haugh alone escaped. The motive alleged for the crime was personal gain. Dr. Haugh it was asserted, had spent all his money and was no longer able to purchase the drugs which he craved with an.

Several days before the crime Dr. Haugh received from a Cleveland drug house enough hyocine to kill a dozen men. It was the opinion of the prosecution that this poison was administered to his victims until they lost consciousness, after which he piled their bodies into a heap, saturated them with oil and set them afire. They were entirely consumed by the flames, which completely destroyed the house.

The testimony of several neighbors who arrived early on the scene, aided in the conviction of the physician. Reliable witnesses swore that the odor of oil was distinctly noticeable in the early stages of the fire and that the bodies of the father, mother and the brother were fully dressed, when they vainly tried to rescue them from the flames.

In his defense, Haugh declared that finding the house in flames, he attempted to gain entrance to his parents' room but was driven back by fire and smoke. Then his underclothing caught fire and he declared he had been badly burned. But the physicians of the hospital, where he applied for relief, could find neither burn nor scratch upon his body.

The evidence against Haugh was conclusive and the defense, after the conviction, set forth the claim that the prisoner was insane. Haugh played his part well, and for weeks acted as one entirely bereft of reason. Experts were set to watch him by the state, and he was caught off his guard on several occasions. After a long trial he was adjudged sane. During his long imprisonment in the penitentiary here, while his case was carried to the higher courts, Haugh continually improved in health and appearance. From a haggard, repulsive looking man as he appeared when brought here from Dayton he changed into a man of refined and even handsome appearance. He has passed much of his time in reading and study, and has taken little part in the card playing and other amusements of the dozen other prisoners awaiting execution or the commutation of their sentences.

Dr. Haugh is married and the father of two children. His wife was separated from him, however, several years before the tragedy. His father was a highly respected resident of Montgomery county, the owner of a fine farm on the outskirts of Dayton and a prosperous wagon and buggy factory in the city. Dr. Haugh is now 36 years old. He was granted a certificate to practice medicine in Ohio in May, 1896, and was located for a time in Springfield before going to Dayton.

"THIS IS MY 68TH BIRTHDAY"

—SIR ALEXANDER BINNIE.

Sir Alexander Richard Binnie, who is president of the British institution of Civil Engineers, was born in London, March 26, 1839. He entered the public works department of India thirty-five years ago. During his service there he designed and constructed many important public works and as a reward he was knighted by Queen Victoria on the occasion of her diamond jubilee celebration. On his return from India he held the post of engineer to the city of Bradford, where he gained great renown by constructing an elaborate system of waterworks. It was the building of the Blackwall Tunnel, however, that put the seal on his fame. This huge tunnel runs under the Thames at Blackwall and is twenty-seven feet in diameter. The entire passage is over 6,200 feet in length, or more than five times the width of the river.

Tennessee Builders Organize.

Memphis, Tenn., March 25.—A conference was begun here today having for its object the organization of a state association of builders' exchanges in Tennessee, on the lines of similar bodies existing in Texas and other states. Among those interested are the builders' exchanges of Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis and Jackson. If the project is realized the state association will become affiliated with the National Association of Builders' exchanges.

Miners to Vote Tomorrow.

Butte, Mont., March 25.—Present indications point to an early and amicable settlement of the wage dispute between the miners and the mining companies of the Butte district. The miners' union will hold a special election tomorrow, when it is believed the terms will be adopted. The amalgamated company offers to pay $4 a day with the stipulation that the union enter into a contract for five years, and that such wages be paid only so long as copper is above 18 cents a pound, should the price drop below that point the wage scale of $3.50 a day to be restored.

What Makes the Sky Blue.

(Reader.)
It is the atmosphere that makes the sky look blue and the moon yellow. If we could ascend to an elevation of fifty miles above the earth's surface we should see that the moon is a brilliant white, while the sky would be black, with the stars shining as brightly in the day as at night. Furthermore, as a most picturesque feature of the spectacle, we should take notice that some of the stars are red, others blue, yet others violet, and still others green in color. Of course all of the stars (if we bar the planets of our own system) are burning suns and the hues they wear depend upon their temperature.

FASHION PARAGRAPHS FROM NEW YORK

New York, March 23.—It is really necessary to have at best two coat and skirt costumes for the spring, and, besides these, a handsome afternoon gown of silk or embroidered pongee or voile and a smart short walking dress of tulle or taffeta in the wardrobe for the coming season. These frocks, with their hats, should be all ready for the first of April, for the real secret of dressing well is in having the appropriate costume at the desired time, and it is always trying to be overtaken by the weather, so to speak, before one's outfit is complete.

Again, there is a distinct line drawn between short and long suits, and each style is now worn at certain times. Walking and traveling costumes are always smartly made to clear the ground. Reception gowns are not permissible in walking length. This year all afternoon robes and those for luncheon, bridge, weddings, etc., have long skirts. It is always said that spring reception garments are to be on the most elaborate order, but a simple style of dress will be found just as smart and infinitely more serviceable. Chiffons, crepes, etc., make most attractive frocks, but are unnecessarily dressy save for those receiving at a large reception or for the hostess herself at some more or less formal entertainment.

Striped and figured silks are in great favor at present, and, as they have not been worn to a great extent of late years, they look new and will remain in fashion now for some time. Light colors are more attractive for spring than the more somber tones, which have been worn all through the winter months. It is well known that the cause of the popularity of the spring wedding is due to the bright effect given by the effective light frocks that help to give everything a festive appearance.

There are few if any plain voiles fashionable at present, all being striped, checked, figured or embroidered, sometimes all on the one color, and, again in two or more different tones. One of the fads of the moment is to border all skirts of a light material with a wide band of taffeta silk or satin, and the majority of voiles are finished in this way, with some trimming of the silk upon the waist as well. This makes an excellent finish as the heavier materials give some body to the skirt and protects the light cloth.

Trimmed skirts are in vogue, but on the new models the principal ornamentation is put on about the hem. As all these dress skirts must be quite long there is none of the barrel effect so much in favor and so unbecoming about two or three years back.

There is a little or no fullness allowed about the waist and hips, for both the princess and empire designs are still popular, and neither allows of any fullness above the knees.

A material which is being smiled upon by the dress authorities is the new white silk "linen canvass." This material is remarkable for the soft silvery shimmer on its surface, almost like the scales of a fish, but it is too costly to outlive the ordinary linen, and except for those who can afford to snap their fingers at expense, it will be used chiefly for blouses. As a rule these blouses will be trimmed with thick Irish crochet.

There are several new designs in veils that are attractive. The chenille dotted—small rather than large dots—in the French veiling is extremely fashionable, and the clear mesh makes it generally becoming. A novelty in heavier veiling is the yard and one-eighth square of chiffon cloth, with large round velvet dots a shade darker in color. There is a wide hem finished with hemstitching. The smartest colors are gray and pale tan, and the veil is put on over the entire hat, with folds drawn back and fastened at the back of the head with one of those new fancy veil pins that are so popular.

The wraps of the coming season are putting in appearance and are interesting in all their phases, from the traveling and automobile coats of silk or tweed to the elaborate confections in lace and silk which will add beauty to elegant toilettes. It is evident that the fanciful wraps of this last-mentioned class are to be more popular and more extravagantly handsome than ever, and the advance models shown by exclusive houses are in many cases priced at figures calculated to make the average woman gasp. The lace coats of the finest grade are perhaps the most costly of their kind, though hand embroidery brings some of the silk and lace trimmed coats to the level of the lace models in point of price.

Fanciful little coats of black or colored chiffon taffeta almost covered by self-tone braiding in fines (soutache) and with big soft knots and scarf ends of black taffeta ribbon on each side of the front at the throat are useful and there are charming coats in broadcloth, white or colored. One of these last was in hydrangea blue broadcloth soutache and embroidered and fell in loose short pailot lines. An odd little flat hood was lined with silk of the same blue and finished by a huge black chenille tassel while black satin scarfs, starting from satin choux, fell down the fronts and had tassels like that of the hood on their ends.

Brainstorm Banquets

If there is any limit to the eccentricities of hospitality it must surely, one would think, have been reached in some of the "freak" banquets recently given across the Atlantic.

Some time ago Mrs. Abram Hewitt, wife of an ex-mayor of New York, gave a higher novel party to a number of her ultra-fashionable friends, says Tit-Bits. Each guest appeared in baby clothes—the ladies in short skirts, with their hair in pigtails, and the men beardless and wearing patched breeches. All carried dolls, slates and sponges, and recited their lessons to Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Couderc, who figured as schoolmaster and schoolmistress respectively, while the proceedings were further enlivened by a chorus of professional singers dressed as monks and nuns.

Celebrates Divorce Anniversary.
Mr. Romaine Pearson, a well-known American clubman, celebrated the tenth anniversary of his divorce by a dinner to twenty-four of his friends at the Beach Hotel, Chicago. The invitations to the feast were ornamented with designs representing broken hearts; the principal toast was "Here's to my mother-in-law. Heaven may bless her, but I don't insist," and the place of honor was occupied by a gentleman whose furniture had been seized by his former wife a few days before.

An eccentric feast was given recently by Mr. Frank G. Balisto, of Brooklyn, to the doctors and nurses who had attended him during and after a serious operation. The wines were drunk out of medicine bottles, the tables were decorated with antiseptic lint, and the ices were served in the form of human skulls.

Beasts and Birds Were There.

For originality, however, it would be difficult to beat the supper party given a few weeks ago by Mrs. Fisk Griffin at her home in a fashionable suburb of Chicago. Ten of the leading members of Chicago society escorted a bird or an animal to the supper table, the guests including a guinea pig, a white pig, a rooster, a rabbit, a dove, a parrot, a lizard, a terrier, a cat and a squirrel, the pig having the honor of being escorted by the hostess herself. Covers were laid for twenty, and each four-footed or feathered guest was served with its own pet delicacies—the rabbit with lettuce, the lizard with flies, the cat with a live mouse and so on.

Ponies at Banquet.

At a "pony banquet" given by Mr. Harvey S. Ladew, at Glen Cove, on Long Island, the guests of honor were two ponies which had won the principal prizes at the Piping Rock Horse Show. The four-footed guests were installed in two horse boxes, draped in silks and embroidered with roses; and between them sat the host at the head of a horse-shoe table, at which forty mere human guests were seated. Dinner was served to the ladies, gentlemen and ponies together; the latter feasting on oats, carrots and other delicacies, served in silver buckets, and drinking water from gold-hooped wooden pails.

At another banquet in honor of a prize Imeranian, the canine pets were seated on high chairs and fed by butlers with veal cutlets, sausages, chocolates and ice cream, with a liberal slice each of a birthday cake which might have graced a royal table.

POLITICS & POLITICIANS

Governor Hoch, of Kansas, has accepted a number of assignments from a lecture bureau for this summer and will receive as high as $150 a night, the seasons profits figuring close to $75,000.

Frank O. Briggs, the new senator from New Jersey, is an enthusiastic athlete, and, though 58 years old, still indulges in his favorite pastimes of wrestling and boxing.

William J. Bryan plans to spend the last half of April in New England. Beginning his speechmaking in Connecticut April 18 he will follow with a tour of Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois and Nathaniel W. Voorhees, father of ex-Governor Foster M. Voorhees, of New Jersey, are said to be the only surviving members of the national convention of 1860, which nominated Lincoln for the Presidency.

President Amador of the little republic of Panama will visit the United States in December next on his return from a contemplated vacation of several months in Europe. He will spend some days in Washington to enable him to return the visit paid him by President Roosevelt last fall.

A primary election will be held in the First Kansas district this week to choose a candidate to succeed United States Senator Charles Curtis. Of the five candidates in the field it is generally conceded that D. R. Anthony, Jr., of Leavenworth, a son of the late Col. D. R. Anthony, and a nephew of Susan B. Anthony, will be chosen. The election is set for May 23.

A movement has been started in Ohio to boom Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, for the presidency of the Democratic ticket to oppose Bryan. Those behind the movement claim that Bryan's speech advocating government ownership of railroads has caused many Democrats to desert him. Mr. Harmon was attorney general in President Cleveland's cabinet and was a presidential candidate before the convention that nominated Parker.

The Kentucky Republican state convention, which is to be held in June, is expected to have an important bearing upon the presidential nomination next year, inasmuch as there is a strong tendency among Republicans to endorse Secretary Taft for the Republican nomination. As this will be the first state convention to start the presidential ball, its endorsement will play a great part in political affairs.

Governor Franz, recently visited Washington in order to persuade some of the national party leaders to take the stump for the republicans in Oklahoma this summer. It is possible that Secretary of War Taft may visit the new state early in June to fire the opening gun of the Republican campaign. He has given a provisional acceptance of the invitation and there is little doubt that the arrangement will be made.

Edmund W. Pettus, of Alabama, the oldest member of the United States senate, has just been chosen for another term. When that term expires Senator Pettus will be 94 years of age. He is now 86, hale and hearty, and always attends to his official duties in Washington. He was first elected from Alabama ten years ago and was re-elected in 1903. His third term will begin in 1909. The senator chews tobacco, drinks liquor moderately, loves flowers, carries a red bandana and enjoys jokes.

NATIONAL BOWLING ASSOCIATION TOURNAMENT.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 25.—The first tournament of the National Bowling Association, which was organized last year as a result of the failure of Philadelphia to obtain the meeting of the American Bowling Congress, opened in Atlantic City today and will continue two weeks. The membership of the association comprises nearly all of the Eastern cities formerly allied with the American Bowling Congress.

The entry list for the tournament is made up of 120 five-men teams, 260 two-men teams and 487 individuals. The cities represented include New Haven, Reading, Rochester, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Paterson, Wilmington, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Buffalo, Newark and Jersey City.

Several cities beyond the Eastern territory have sent representatives to the tournament, among them Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Louisville.

The prize money for which the teams and individuals are to contest aggregates nearly $7,000. Of this sum, $2,250 will go to the winning five-men teams, $2,270 to the successful two-men teams, and $2,069.75 to the winning individuals. The money will be divided on a percentage plan. In the big team class the five rolling the high three-game score will receive $255, the second will receive $229.50 and the others in proportion. The same method will hold good in the doubles and singles. The first two-men prize will be $176.80, or 8 per cent., while the best individual total will be awarded $34.52. This arrangement spreads out the prize money, and it is believed will lead to a more satisfactory distribution by preventing the few leading teams or men from capturing the bulk of the money.

Criminal Speed on Streets.

There has been a growing disregard for the rights of pedestrians at street crossings in this city, and especially so since the advent of automobiles. Matters have reached a point in Paducah where it will be criminal for the authorities to suffer the present state of affairs to continue. It has actually become so that one risks his life frequently in attempting to cross a street. Automobiles, ice wagon drivers, beer wagon drivers, negro hackmen and motormen on the street cars seem to have the idea that they must be given the full right of way on the streets of this city. The negro drivers of this city have an insolent way of, when approaching a corner at full speed at which they expect to turn, and seeing any one crossing their path to whistle and then expect them to scamper out of the way. A big buck tried that game on this writer last week and it was a case of being run down, but no attention was paid to the negro and he quickly stopped his team.

Several years ago The Register suggested a method to put a stop to vehicles running over crossings at full speed, and that was for the city to elevate the street crossing from sidewalk to sidewalk in the business portion of the city and when vehicles struck those points under full headway it would result in broken springs or bouncing the drivers from their seats. We do not wish anyone harm, but it were better to jolt the reckless drivers than to maim or kill a pedestrian.

We doubt if there is a city in the country the size of Paducah in which automobiles are suffered to run at the reckless and criminal pace which they travel in Paducah. There is hardly an automobile in this city that does not at times run at a speed of anywhere from 30 to 60 miles an hour and almost daily narrow escapes from death occur. According to reports two prominent business men of this city Sunday morning made a speedway out of Third street and sent their machines at a terrific rate of speed over that thoroughfare and were arrested on warrants obtained by a police commissioner. In the city court yesterday a fine of $10 was assessed, and, perhaps, that may be the limit under the law; if it is, the law should be changed and the minimum fine made not less than $100. Those men are not the only ones guilty of violating the speed law, for, as stated above, nearly every owner of a machine in this city is in a habit of going at a reckless and dangerous pace. There are about thirty automobile owners in Paducah and about 30,000 other people who do not own a machine, and it is an outrage for the 30,000 people to be in constant danger merely to gratify the desire of the 30 persons to make the streets of Paducah a speedway. The fact that a man has money enough to buy an automobile does not give him a right to become a menace to public safety, and every time one of them exceeds the speed limit he should be promptly arrested and carried to the city hall and treated just like any other violator of the law. There are fathers in this city, who, if one of their children were run down, maimed or killed, might not look to the law for redress, but do like those who exceed the speed limit and overstep the law themselves. However, two wrongs do not make a right and the very best plan for all concerned is to enforce the law to the letter, not only against automobilists, but reckless drivers and motormen as well.

In the matter of the deplorable accident at Fourth and Broadway Sunday afternoon in which two lads were run down by an automobile and maimed, we do not propose to pass upon it at this time as the matter is in the courts, but it seems to have been a fact that a large crowd of people had assembled at that corner to take the cars, and that being true it was the duty of everyone in charge of a vehicle or car to approach that point with full control of the vehicle or machine and at a pace slow enough to avoid any possible accident.

Too little regard is shown for the rights of pedestrians in Paducah, who outnumber the users of vehicles too to 1, and it is the duty of the police department to wage a relentless warfare against reckless drivers and make arrests by the wholesale until the public becomes convinced that people afoot may go on the streets without fear of being run over and killed.

The Lick-the-Editor Law.

(Louisville Courier Journal.)
Pennsylvania politicians have the muddiest morals on earth but the thinnest skins. If there is one thing a Pennsylvania grafter cannot bear it is to see himself cartooned with the goods upon him or to read mean gossip about his having stolen $1,000,000 or committed some other trifling irregularity that is purely a private matter between him and his conscience. Some time ago an anti-cartoon bill was introduced at Harrisburg. Now there is a bill to make it lawful to lick any editor, proprietor, telegraph editor, city editor, reporter, copy reader, correspondent, manager of any paper that publishes a false report or makes defamatory statements about the assailant, his parent, wife, child or fiancée. Apparently the only member of a Pittsburgh family who may be assailed with impunity after the passage of the bill is the co-respondent would have the standing of fiancée.

Although the bill does not state explicitly the extent to which a newspaper man may be maimed by a Pennsylvanian whose feelings have been hurt, the law in every case contemplates that any privilege granted to a citizen under statutory provision may be exercised to the fullest, and, of course, any editor not sufficiently law-abiding to take his licking in the proper spirit could be killed if, in the opinion of the aggrieved person, it should become necessary to take his life in order to enjoy the rights and privileges granted by the statute.

THRU MY SPECS

Last week the council very gravely considered the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the children from skating on the sidewalks. One of the reasons given why the ordinance should be passed was the danger to the little ones.

The 'Man About Town' was vigorously opposed to it, and said so very plainly. Other citizens were opposed to depriving the children of the pleasure, and through their efforts the ordinance was killed.

In this department the attention of the city officials has been called to the reckless speed at which automobiles, motor cycles and street cars have been run through the streets, and the prediction made that some child would be killed or seriously injured if something was not done to regulate the speed.

Two boys were run down by an auto Sunday; the details are given in the news columns of this issue.

If a test were made it would be proven that every street car, auto and motor cycle is being driven at a speed from two to three times as great as the law allows.

As to the life-saving device on the cars, some say the plank just before the front wheels is "about as good as any." This may be so. I am not an expert, but I saw one child literally crushed to a jelly in an eastern town by the same contrivance as the "life guard" on the Paducah cars. Louisville, Cincinnati and other cities have guards that have proven satisfactory.

If the members of the council are really anxious to prevent injury to children, does it not seem that they would pass ordinances regulating the speed of cars, autos and motor cycles and see that all places of amusement are amply provided with exits? Or, if there are laws governing all this, see that the proper officers enforce these laws?

There is one place in the city that, from outside appearance, seems a regular trap, and if a panic should occur, as happened a week or so ago, one or more children would certainly be hurt.

Broadway on Saturday evenings

presents the appearance of a carnival, so great are the crowds, and it seems the autoists select this night to show their machines. A lady said to me yesterday: "I really believe the council should pass an ordinance prohibiting the autos on Broadway on Saturday nights. Hundreds of poor people do their shopping on this night, and are compelled to bring their children with them. It is difficult to get along in the streets as it is, and the autos come dashing down the street and around corners at breakneck speed, greatly endangering the lives of both children and grown people. I have had several narrow escapes myself, and have seen a baby in a carriage nearly run down by a recklessly driven auto. It seems that the rich people could take the air in some other parts of the city on this night, and those in carriages should be compelled to drive no faster than a walk in the congested streets." The lady's idea is a good one.

FORMING "UNION LABEL LEAGUE"

MEMBERS WILL PURCHASE NOTHING EXCEPT ARTICLES BEARING LABEL.

The Retail Clerks' Union Met Last Evening and Initiated Several New Members.

The wives and other female members of the families of union men of this city are organizing what is known as the "Union Label League" and will shortly have their body perfected, a meeting to be held at 2 o'clock the coming Thursday afternoon for that purpose.

The object of the league is that when any of the members enter a mercantile establishment of any character to make a purchase they will request of the proprietors or clerks that the purchaser be shown the union label before they will buy anything. This kind of label is put on every article turned out by union workmen the country over. By demanding that the goods have the label the league members in this manner show that they do not want to purchase anything except articles being turned out by workmen who affiliate with the labor unions. If the goods do not have the label, they will not be bought.

Clerks' Union.

The Retail Clerks' Union met last evening at their hall on North Fourth street and initiated a number of candidates into the body.

STRAIGHTEN LIMBS.

Specialists of St. Louis Believe This Possible With Paducah Lad.

Mr. Bruce M. Philley returned Sunday evening from St. Louis, where he carried his little 5-year-old son, Nolen, and had the lad examined by specialists who thing they can straighten out his lower limbs. He is a bright little fellow who has been unable to walk since birth on account of his limbs being crooked, but the specialists are having made some braces that will be put on the child's legs, and as the little one grows larger his limbs will be brought out straighter. The St. Louis medical men directed Mr. Philley to bring the boy over there every two months in order that they could see what progress was being made.

Subsequently Governor Swettenham returned the visit of the American statesmen at their hotel. The conversation between the governor and the visitors to Jamaica was most cordial.

SAYS PRESIDENT OFFERED HIM A PARDON

Burton Declares He Refused to Accept Executive Clemency.

Abilene, Kan., March 25.—Former United States Senator J. R. Burton, after delivering the speech which he had prepared in advance, made the statement last night that the President offered him a pardon. He said: "Five days after I was in jail the president offered me a pardon. It came to me personally at Ironton. The communication was over the signature of the pardon clerk.

"I never answered it. I would not answer it. I would not accept a pardon from him under any conditions. He, gentlemen, he is the one that should have the pardon."

CITY ATTORNEY

LAWYER A. L. HARPER ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR THAT POSITION.

In the regular column of this issue is found the announcement of Attorney A. L. Harper as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for city attorney, subject to action of the democratic primary, May 2.

No introduction for Mr. Harper is necessary, as he is one of the best known and most sterling attorneys of this city and county. He is a self-made lawyer and gentleman who commands the respect of the entire community. Mr. Harper was born and reared in McCracken county, and after attending the common schools finished his education at the West Kentucky College of Mayfield where he graduated with high honors. He immediately began the study of law, and being admitted to the bar after a creditable legal examination, has been practicing the profession with success for the past ten years. He is a son of the late Squire Blaney Harper, one of this city's most prominent and substantial citizens during his life.

Attorney Harper is a member of excellent standing in the Paducah Bar association, and well qualified to discharge the duties of the city attorney's office if selected for the position. He promises to give the people a clean and satisfactory administration if honored for the place, and solicits the influence and support of all. He is a time-tried democrat, having closely followed that party since attaining his majority, and has always been regarded as a strong party worker.

BATTLE WITH ROCKS SUNDAY

ANOTHER UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR AS RESULT OF EXCURSION.

Paducah Boys Threw the First Rocks and the Fire Was Returned By Smithland Lads.

The steamer Dick Fowler ran an excursion to Smithland Sunday, and as on an obting to that city last summer the Paducah boys started a row that ended rather seriously, as rocks and bricks were hurled back and forth to and from the boat.

When the boat landed there the Paducahans went up into the town and a large crowd of young fellows entered a confectionary, and while a few bought fruit, etc., others pilfered a whole lot, so the report is. Then when the boat started to pull out some Paducah boys heaved rocks from the boat at Smithland people on the bank. The latter returned the assault.

Detective William Baker was hit on the ankle with half a brick, while William Clements, formerly a motorman, of 1114 South Fourth, had a gash cut in his face with a missile. William Walker, of 618 Campbell street, caught a flying rock in his hand and cut the palm, while Mrs. Jessie Amos, of 535 South Second, was hit on the temple. A number of the land boys were struck by rocks thrown by the Paducah chaps.

Gordon, United States, attorney in charge of pardons, tonight denied the statement of former United States Senator Burton that a pardon had been offered to Mr. Burton.

Mme Eads-Stoey Asks for Divorce.
New York, March 25.—Mme Emma Eads-Stoey today filed a suit asking a divorce from her husband Julian Stoey and naming a charming boy of Philadelphia's "400" as co-respondent. This is shattered another ideal. For the great prima donna and her artist-husband have long been regarded as shining exceptions to the unhappy-marriage rule so prevalent in artistic circles.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY FILED BY W. J. WHITEHEAD

MR. WHITEHEAD IS THE RESTAURANT MAN OF BROADWAY—CREDITORS OF MAX J. MICHELSON ACCEPT THIRTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR—ANNA B. SCOTT CLAIMS SHE IS PROPERLY LOOKING AFTER HER DEADHUSBAND'S ESTATE—OTHER NEWS FROM THE COURTS.

William J. Whitehead, the restaurant man of Broadway between second and Third street, yesterday morning filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving liabilities of $1,900 with assets valued at about $1,600. His furniture, fixtures and restaurant equipment are mortgaged at $1,200, one being for $600, held by Baker Henry Gockel and the other for $600 held by Mrs. Whitehead. Whitehead will keep his restaurant open for business as usual.

Magistrate's Court.

Justice John J. Bleich yesterday morning opened his magistrate court in his office on South Fourth street, calling over the docket, dismissing many actions and transacting considerable business of this nature.

Property Transferred.

Property on the north side of Salem avenue has been sold by W. L. Womack to Mary E. Ratcliffe for $300 and the deed filed for record yesterday with the county clerk.

R. E. Williams sold to G. T. Heddon for $800 property on the Paducah and Lovelaceville road in the county.

Land on the Ogden Landing road was bought by W. A. Parker from L. C. Carneal for $544.

A. C. Parker bought for $800 land on the Paducah and Ogden Landing road from W. A. Parker.

W. A. Parker for $800 land on the Paducah and Ogden Landing road from A. C. Parker.

F. E. Rowland transferred to George House for $700 property on Reed avenue in Rowlandtown.

Marriage License.

James A. L. Warmack and Mrs. Benie Coley were granted a license to marry.

Four Convictions.

In the juvenile court yesterday Judge Lightfoot ordered Algie Barse, colored, and John Stewart, colored, to the state reform school, the former for two years and latter for four years. The Barse lad stole some tools and overalls from Contractor W. R. Hudnall, while the Stewart boy broke into Alex Overstreet's house.

The judge sent Willis Dunlap and Bob Greer, colored, to the county jail for ninety days each for stealing some cow hides from Mrs. Baer of South Second street near Kentucky avenue.

Suit For Divorce.

Mrs. Maud Arbuckle yesterday filed suit for divorce in the circuit court against her husband, Elston Arbuckle, to whom she was married during 1893 at Paris, Tenn. She claims he has abandoned her, and besides the divorce she wants possession of their children, Howard, aged 9 years, and Orene, aged 13 years.

Compromise Accepted.

The creditors of Max Jay Michelson, the South Second street merchant yesterday met at the office of Referee Bagby of the bankrupt court and agreed to accept the compromise Michelson offered to satisfy their claims. The compromise was thirty cents on the dollar and the creditors agreed to this. Michelson filed his petition in bankruptcy several weeks ago, giving $7,600 liabilities and $8,000 assets.

Lunacy Inquiry.

Judge Lightfoot yesterday summoned a jury to try in his court a man named Edwards for lunacy, but the relatives did not appear with the unfortunate gentleman and the trial now goes over until next week when the circuit court will be in session and the jury of that tribunal hear the matter. Mr. Edwards resides on Jones street and has been to the asylum before. He is not raving and dangerous, but the family consider it would be better and safer to have him confined at the Hopkinsville institution.

Demurrer and Answer.

Mrs. Anna B. Scott, administratrix of her deceased husband, James Scott, yesterday filed in the county court an answer and demurrer to the petition filed by Lawyers Taylor and Lucas to have her removed as administratrix of the estate of her husband. In her answer she said she was attending to the estate properly and to its best interest, therefore should not be removed. Some months ago, after her husband was run over and killed in the I. C. yards at Fulton where he worked as switchman, she got Taylor and Lucas to file suit for $25,000 damages against the railroad. Afterwards she dismissed the litigation over the protest of her attorneys, who now try to get her removed on the ground that her action showed she was not properly looking after the estate. The pleadings in the removal suit are nearly made up now, and Judge Lightfoot will shortly try the controversy and see whether she is looking after matters properly or whether she shall be removed and another put in charge of the estate.

MAYOR GREATLY ENJOYED JOKE

LITTLE ONES BANTER HIM TO GET THEM OFF SIDEWALKS.

The Mayor Tells the Joke With a Great Deal of Amusement to Everybody.

Although the butt of the joke, Mayor Yeiser enjoyed it immensely several nights ago, and laughingly tells of it now, although it revives memories of the death of his anti-roller skating ordinance.

As everybody knows, Mayor Yeiser does not think the children should be permitted to skate at all on the pavements and sidewalks. He urged the adoption by the general council of a law, prohibiting the little ones from coming on the public highways with their skates, but the legislative boards did not agree with him, and decided to let the little ones skate out beyond Fifth street in the residence part of town. A law to this effect is now being compiled.

Last week the general council decided on this, and a night or two afterwards the mayor was standing in front of The Register office talking, when about "steem little boys" and girls came sailing down the sidewalk on their roller skates. Espying His Honor, they completely encircled him and yelled: "Now make us get off the street if you can." This and other twitting remarks they hurled at the genial mayor, who greatly enjoyed the chiding by the little ones, and who overlooks the fact that the little ones do not realize his opposition to their skating is greatly because he wants to protect them from injury by vehicles and streets cars on the congested thoroughfares.

FINISHING THE RECAPITULATION

MESSRS. SMEDLEY AND FINLEY EXPECT TO DO THIS TODAY.

The figures Will Immediately Be Forwarding to Frankfort for State Equalizers.

Deputy County Clerk Walter Smedley and Deputy County Assessor Finley expect to finish today the work of recapitulation of the assessment showing what every piece of city and county property is valued for county and state tax purposes. If they finish today a copy of it will be forwarded to the state board of equalization at Frankfort in order that the latter body can see if the total assessment of McCracken county is in proportion to the other counties over Kentucky.

County Assessor Troutman yesterday said that the state body had finished going over the recapitulation of every county in the first district except McCracken, and as it would take only a week or two to do this, word can be expected shortly from Frankfort as to whether McCracken county's total is to be raised or whether it remains as fixed by the supervisors for this county.

The state body has not seen fit to raise the figures fixed by the county supervisors for a number of years now, and it is believed this sentiment will prevail this year also.

THE BAD SCALDS RESULT FATALLY

MR. CHARLES L. GRIMES DIED AT HOSPITAL SUNDAY.

Mrs. Lucy Barker, Aged 28 Years, Died at Home, 1343 South Third, and Will Be Buried in County.

Mr. Charles L. Grimes died at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Illinois Central railroad hospital on West Broadway as result of scalds sustained last week at Fulton, when the steam pipes to the engine became disarranged on crashing into another train in the yard, and let steam escape over the bodies of Grimes and Fireman Jesse Murrell.

Young Grimes was 31 years of age and learning to be a railroad fireman when the fatal accident happened. He is a son of Mr. O. F. Grimes, of Fulton, where the remains were taken at 6 o'clock Sunday evening and buried yesterday.

Fireman Murrell's recovering at the hospital, both having been brought here for treatment.

Lady Passed Away.

Mrs. Lucy Barker died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at her home, 1343 South Third street, and today at noon the funeral services will be held at the residence, followed with interment at the Barker cemetery in the county.

The deceased was 28 years of age and an estimable lady of many friends.

Funeral This Morning.

At 10 o'clock this morning the funeral services will be held over the remains of the late Mr. Al B. Winfrey, who died at Weycross, Ga., last Friday and whose remains have arrived here and been taken to the family residence on Twelfth and Jefferson streets. Rev. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian church, officiates, with interment following at Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers will be Ed Amlin, Joseph McCann, Michael Kelly, Edgar Evills, James Lloyd and G. Robertson.

CONDITION SERIOUS AS RESULT OF ASSAULT

HIGHWAYMEN ASSAULTED E. BRANDT OF MAYFIELD WHO NOW LIES AT RIVERSIDE HOSPITAL—ED KEELING, COLORED, FIRE TWICE AT OFFICERS, AND GOT SAME IN RETURN—BASKET OF ODD FELLOWS' PARAPHERNALIA RECOVERED BY LIEUTENANT POTTER—BUSINESS WITH POLICE.

E. Brandt, a painter of Mayfield, lies at Riverside hospital in a dangerous condition, on account of his fractured skull caused by someone assaulting him Sunday evening out on Bronson avenue or in that vicinity. He does not know who it was but says several parties attacked him, beat him over the head with clubs, and slit his pants at the knee. He states that when they assaulted him he told the highwaymen not to cut and beat him, as he would give up his money without that. They mistreated him anyhow, and the doctors say his condition is quite serious.

A young fellow named William Young discovered Brandt lying on the street and notified the officers, Patrolmen Cross and Jones going out after him. Brandt was intoxicated and complained of pains in his head, but the officers thought it was the result of the liquor, and paid no attention to him. Yesterday when he sobered up he continued complaining, and was taken to the hospital in the afternoon for treatment.

The footpads got $50 from him, but on account of his intoxicated condition he could not remember who they were or whether they assaulted him where he was found, or whether it occurred elsewhere and he wandered but on the avenue.

Exchanged Shots.

Ed Keeling, colored, made a target for Patrolman William Rogers' bullets, but nobody was struck. The firing was occasioned by Keeling whipping his wife early last evening at their home on Eleventh between Burnett and Flournoy streets. She notified the officers and Patrolman Hill lay in wait for the negro, hiding in the yard of the darky, who had left home but came back. As he appeared Officer Hill started for him, and Keeling ran. The officer shot at him twice, and the negro turned and snapped his pistol twice at the patrolman, but the gun would not go off. Keeling escaped, and Patrolman Rogers and Hill again lay waiting for him. Shortly he came back and fired his revolver twice in the air to scare away anyone who might be around. His attempt did not work as Officer Rogers cracked down at him twice, but none of the bullets took effect, and again the burly coon made his escape, for good this time.

Odd Fellows' Regalia.

Lieutenant Thomas Potter yesterday recovered a basketful of Odd Fellows' regalia that was found by one of the attaches of the Durrett stockyards on Caldwell street. The man discovered the articles in the basket stored away in a cattle trough in the yards, and taking it home notified the lieutenant who went out and got it. The outfit was taken to the City Hall where Mr. Potter had William Morgan of Mangum lodge of Odd Fellows to see if it was the paraphernalia stolen several weeks ago from this lodge's assembly hall at Fifth and Broadway. It proved not to be the missing articles, and the lieutenant is now holding them for the owner. There are six lodge collars and two full garments in the basket.

Obtained Goods.

Mary Anderson, colored, was arrested yesterday at her home on Tennessee near Seventh street by Constable A. C. Shelton on a warrant taken out charging her with obtaining goods under false pretenses. She will be tried Thursday before Justice Emery. The warrant was gotten out by J. J. Wilkins, formerly in the grocery business at Ninth and Tennessee streets, but who has been away for some time. He contends the woman came to him during the winter, and claimed she worked at a certain place and would pay him when she got her wages, got him to sell her $7.50 worth of groceries on credit. It afterwards developed that she did not work at the place claimed, and she is now warranted.

Gold Watch Gone.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS

SOME INTERESTING SECRETS
OF THE TRADE.

Maker of These Valuable Adjuncts to Locomotion Gives Some Particulars as to Their Manufacture.

"Oh, yes, indeed, they come pretty high," said the artificial leg maker. "It is a beauty, though, isn't it? I venture to say there isn't another one in Philadelphia like it, on or off, and it's as light as a feather, too."

With these words, says the Shoe Retailer, the creator of artificial limbs flourished a leg in the air. He was fat and smiling, and he spoke with an indistinguishable foreign accent, and every once in awhile his face beamed with enthusiasm.

"They all come to Philadelphia for them, too," he continued. "We've customers from all over Europe, Asia and Africa. There are lots of leg makers in the city—at least they call themselves such, but some of them are not leg makers at all; they're harness makers."

The august Philadelphia leg maker, purveyor to kings, queens and government officials, took a little time to show the specimens around the room. They were fat and thin, long and short, graceful and otherwise. Some of them were huddled in corners, accumulating the dust of ages; others hung aloft on racks, so light and airy that they were wafted to and fro in the breeze.

"You see," continued the leg maker, "we know how to do things now. We've got the secret all right. First they chop down the willow tree; then we cut out the legs. It takes a heap of flexible leather to put the tendons in the right place. See that spring in the ankle? That's made by the leather tendons. If you saw one on a man you could not tell the difference. Then the whole thing is covered over with fine pink enamel. Looks natural enough, don't it?" At this juncture a rap came at the door, and a big man, six feet four, weighing nearly 300 pounds, entered. He looked smilingly complaisant as he lifted a cigarette and shook hands with the leg maker.

"Can you rush an order for me, double quick?" he asked. "I've come through a tough fight," he went on. "You know I always travel with a bunch of legs and coming up this way from New Orleans the Pullman car was burned and all four of my legs were lost. I only saved the one I had on, and now you've got to get to work to make another set for me double quick." With an air of languor and ease the big man stood to have himself measured.

"Do you know who he is?" questioned he of the leg trade, after the ponderous man had gone. "Well, he is the son of one of the richest women in the United States. He lost his leg through disease, and he always comes to Philadelphia to have his sets made. Plain, ordinary boxes do for most people to cart their legs around in, but he's got fine leather cases with his name engraved upon them."

"Do many of them go in on such a wholesale plan?" was queried of the leg maker.

"Heaps of them," he replied, laconically. "Some of them can do anything with 'em. There's one young man in this city who belongs to a glee club and they tell me he's the best dancer of Irish jigs in the town. He was a good dancer before he lost his leg, and he's all right yet. No; we have no lady attendants. We ought to have, though. What's the reason? Oh, because there is not one woman in Philadelphia that I can find who knows the trade. Pity, too, because there's money in it. A good leg maker ought to make at least $25 per week. "There are six or seven men in public life, well known, who wear artificial limbs. None but their intimate friends and families know it, however. One young lady in Philadelphia who led a number of dances last winter has an artificial leg. It is easy to walk with one after you learn how to use them."

"Oh, yes, artificial leg making is the thing for me," concluded the leg maker. "I started out as a fine carpenter, doing up banks and public buildings, and one day I went into a place in New York to order an artificial limb for a friend in distress. The maker was a doctor, strange to say. He sized me up and I sized him up, and in a short time I was under contract to work for him. They can't steal our patents, either, for it's as hard to make an artificial limb without years of learning as it would be for some tinhorn maker to produce a Stradivarius."

The Emir's Capital.
It is reported that the Emir of Afghanistan contemplates the removal of his capital to a more northern site. Owing to the energetic way in which the present Emir and his immediate predecessors have been manufacturing guns and machinery the country around Kabul has been denuded to such an extent that fuel is now unobtainable. So great are the straits to which the Emir is reduced by the want of wood that it is imperative that a new site should be obtained, and this will probably be found in the wooded slopes of the mountains farther north.

JUST AN ACCIDENT

IN MOST CASES IT IS DUE TO GROSS CARELESSNESS.

Child Maimed for Life Through Momentary Neglect of Nurse—Pleasant Experiences Which Sometimes Come by Accident.

BY MARGARET E. SANGSTER.
(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Nine-tenths of the untoward happenings that people call accidental are due to gross carelessness and shameful neglect.

There are two sets of people in the world—those who keep things up and those who let things run down. The first have never indulged in the habit of putting off till to-morrow what ought to be done to-day. If the roof leaks or there is a crack in the ceiling or a loose board in the floor or a sagging hinge or a broken window cord, they repair the damage at once. They know perfectly that it costs less to mend than to mar, and marring goes rapidly on where there is no mending. As everybody knows the best way to let even a fine house go to absolute ruin is to shut it up and leave it without an inhabitant. A house that is lived in lasts longer and looks better than a house that is untenanted, because the forces of nature are constantly making war upon the buildings of men, and a constant battle must be waged against them if men are to come off victors.

The heedless housekeeper has casually mentioned that there is a thin place on the stair carpet which will presently wear into a hole. She is not ignorant of a rip in a rug which may catch somebody's heel and cause a tumble. But being heedless, she puts off repairing the rent in carpet and rug until an unlucky person hurrying along has a fall, which means a hip out of joint or a broken leg, or worse still, a jar which may cause apoplexy to some one in old age, or the development of a malignant disease in some one younger. These baleful sequences do come from slight falls, and somebody is responsible.

A variety of miseries shuffle along in the train of so-called accidents, which never should have been permitted to occur. From time to time people die because they have eaten toad stools when they thought they were eating mushrooms. Nothing is easier than to distinguish between the delicious edible and the deadly fungus, yet there are those who mourn sweet deaths as if they were laid at the door of accident.

Children are sometimes left in the care of thoughtless hirelings and are maimed for life through falls for which there was neither excuse nor occasion. A man fearfully deformed with a great hump between his shoulders was in his infancy the most noble and beautiful of children. While his pretty nurse was flirting with a gallant policeman the baby carriage took a slide down a steep hill and was overturned at the foot, and years of pain and wretchedness, with the handicap of the hunchback, have paid for that folly.

We seldom read of a railroad accident that is not due to the carelessness of somebody, and yet it would be most unfair to utter sweeping criticisms on the employees of public conveyances. The average man is superlatively trustworthy. The engineer sticks to his post and dies in the effort to save the train. When one of the engines on the "Majestic" was suddenly put out of commission not long ago, by a real accident that no care could have anticipated or averted, the corps of engineers, at the risk of their own lives, in the face of clouds of scalding steam, shut off the machinery, and were carried to the hospital afterwards. They were heroes.

There are accidents that no one can prevent. But as compared with those which come by lack of care, they are few. When the lightning from the sky strikes a man dead as he sits in his house or walks by the way, he may be said to perish by the act of God. But when a man takes hold of a live wire with bare hands, he has only himself to blame if he drops dead the next instant. The accident was stupid and foolhardy.

We need not limit what happens by apparent accident to disaster and calamity. There are pleasant things that may properly be set down to the account of accident, since we have not planned them nor in any way made the least provision, mentally or materially, for their coming to pass. A young man casts about for a good place to spend a brief holiday. Business claims him so constantly that vacations are few and far between. Not often does he obtain a recess. Shall he go to the mountains, to the old homestead, to the island springs or the shore? Shall he accept a friend's invitation to join him on a yacht, or possibly shall he go on a bicycle tour over a distant state? He finally decides on one jaunt or another, with no ultimate object, except to have a good holiday.

Yet on the yacht or in the farmhouse or by the way he is to meet a girl whose eyes shall capture his heart and who shall change the face of the world for him for the rest of his life.

"How came Hugh to marry Belle?" I once asked, wondering at what seemed an incongruous marriage, the husband a man of profound culture and varied learning, while the wife was a brilliant social butterfly, who cared for little except personal adornment and beautiful surroundings.

"Oh," said the friend who answered me, "they met on a slow steamer crossing the Atlantic. Nearly everybody on board was seasick. But they had in common the fact that they were both good sailors, and by the time they

GINSENG IN MAINE.

DISCOVERY OF A PATCH WORTH
A SMALL FORTUNE.

Student of a University Law School in Bangor, Maine, Finds a Mysterious Source of Riches.

If a rich vein of gold-bearing quartz had been discovered on the side of Whitney's mountain the rush of fortune seekers would not have been greater than it has been to Sarsaparilla gully during the last few weeks, owing to the finding of ginseng in great quantities in the gravelly soil on the gully banks, says a recent Newburg (Me.) report.

The pioneer in the business is John M. Thurlough, a student at the University of Maine law school, in Bangor. Last year it was noticed that he joined in none of the Saturday games played by the students.

The reason Thurlough assigned for absenting himself every Saturday was that he wanted to go to his home in Fairfield and pass the Sabbath with his parents, though it was noticed that he never left his boarding place on rainy Saturdays. Further research developed the fact that he was buying expensive sets of law books and filling his room with costly furniture.

Finally, when he bought a $600 piano and had it installed in his room, the gossip learned the secret of his sudden access to riches, and most of the country had something to talk about for a year to come. The explanation made by young Thurlough was very simple.

He had an aunt living in Newburg, and one day when he was calling on her the family went to Sarsaparilla gully to dig roots for the usual spring bitters. The fame of the roots of Sarsaparilla gully had gone through the county years before.

By sprouting whole corn and then drying it, and grinding the grain and mixing it with sarsaparilla root and spruce brush and checkerberry leaves and sugar, and then adding yeast and letting the compound ferment, the residents were able to reach a condition of absolute health.

As young Thurlough helped to dig the health-giving roots he noticed they were bigger and more pulpy than ordinary sarsaparilla, and with a view of identifying the species to which the plants belonged, he took samples to Prof. Munson at Orono, who at once decided they were ginseng roots. Subsequent proceedings were easy.

Having a good working knowledge of the law, young Thurlough boarded the land lying on either side of the gully, and spent all of his spare time digging and preparing the ginseng root for which there was a quick sale at $2.50 a pound. By remaining silent concerning his source of revenue, the law student cleared up about $10,000 last year, and sold his provisional lease to a Boston company for $3,000 in cash.

It is asserted that the company has dug and sold ginseng roots valued at $15,000 the past season, and now that the affair is no longer a secret, hundreds of eager people are hunting Dixmont and Newburg hills in the hope of finding another ginseng plantation. Many acres of pasture and woodland have been dug over, but with unsatisfactory results.

CITY HAS NET FOR FISHES

Supplies Food for Zoo Birds and Specimens for the Public Aquarium.

Visitors to Bronx park walking along the east side of the Bronx river not far from the subway entrance have been interested in a circular net that was placed in the stream a few days ago. It was put there, reports the New York Sun, for the double purpose of supplying fish dinners to the birds of the zoo and specimens for the aquarium at the Battery.

A row of stakes near the bank leads out to the net, which is funnel shaped with the large end inshore. The fish coming to the bank to feed enter the mouth and naturally swim back into deep water, but they find the net narrowing, and when they slide through the small hole in the end of the funnel they are trapped within a larger net of the same style. The net is about 15 feet long and four feet wide at the mouth.

Carp and suckers weighing from a quarter of a pound to three pounds have been taken in this way for the benefit of the zoo eagles, cranes and vultures. The keepers say that the birds appreciate this fresh fish.

All the pickerel and bass captured are sent to the aquarium to be exhibited, or in emergency to be fed to their fellows. "A few eels and mud turtles wander into the net."

It Was All Over.

"No more will I hear his footsteps on yonder walk as the clock strikes the hour of eight."

"Gracious, Jeanette!"

"And the old parlor light will never burn low for him again."

"You don't mean it?"

"I do, and furthermore, he will never sit on this sofa three nights a week and call me pet names as he has been doing for the past two years."

"I am astonished."

"And to-night I am going to burn all the old love letters in my trunk."

"But why are you going to discard him?"

"Discard him? Why, you goose, I am going to marry him!"—Columbus Dispatch.

DEERE CORN PLANTERS THE MOST ACCURATE DROP

The most essential thing to consider about a Corn Planter in accuracy is the DROP, this you get when you use a John Deere Edge Drop. Also one that the depth desired for your seed can be regulated. The name John Deere denotes durability.

RUIN THE PICTURES.

PEOPLE WHO "BUTT IN" WHEN CAMERA IS WORKING.

Scenes Carefully Arranged by Moving Picture Artists Are Disturbed and Rendered Useless.

"Our work is sometimes seriously interfered with by the butts in, and then again there are times when their slugging in helps us," said the manager of a moving picture concern, who himself frames up the incidents and supervises the taking of the pictures. "It is impossible to guard against the folks with the butting-in habit, for when they see anything unusual coming off on the street or in any public place their natural curiosity instinct takes hold of them, and they're bound to nudge up and take a hand in the proceedings."

Over in Trenton a few weeks ago I fixed up a horsewhipping scene. The first part of the set was easy enough to get. It was a scene in a restaurant, in which a pretty girl, seated at a table a little distance away from another table at which a frolicsome man with a homely wife is dining, falls to making goo-goo eyes at the man.

The second scene, in which I arranged to have the horsewhipping take place, took place outside the restaurant. We'd got police permission to take the pictures, and I had two or three men stationed in front of the restaurant to keep the crowd back while the phony horsewhipping was in progress.

"When everything was all set and the machine was snapping away at the homely wife laying the lash across the face and shoulders of the flirtatious girl—the lash looked like rattan, but it was a phony, and didn't hurt at all—our troubles began."

"First a big varnisher of a man slammed in and grabbed my homely woman by her lash-wielding arm, bawling that he didn't believe in seeing no woman stinging another woman like that, and that quered one set of films. The machine had to be stopped while the big buttniks was being informed that the thing was only a tableau, and that he didn't belong to the picture."

"He took the gibes of the crowd shortly, at that, and looked to be in so much of a mind to kick our gear to pieces that I had to get a cop to walk him down the street."

"When we got all set again and the horsewhipping of the flirtatious girl was once more going on a scrawny butch-faced woman, who had just joined the outer circle of the crowd, and who wasn't up to what was coming off, rushed into the scene with a shriek, grabbed my two acting women by the hair, and started in to rough-house them both for their indecency in fighting on the street," as he yelled at them. The machine had to be stopped again.

"The incident as I had framed it up didn't call for anything like that. I had it arranged that after the whipping had proceeded for a space the guilty husband of the homely wife was to rush in and attempt to separate the two women, when his wife was to turn on him with the lash, causing him to skid down the street. The girl with the goo-goo eyes was to seize the whip from the other woman's hands and start in to get ready for the cutting she'd received, the scene ending up that way."

DETHRONING OF ALCOHOL.

Being Brought About by the Modern Spirit of Scientific Research.

Another potent factor in the dethroning of alcohol has been the spirit of scientific research of recent years, says an Open Letter, in Century. In the great laboratories scientists have been carefully studying the effects of alcoholic liquors upon the various organs of the body, and, although they differ in their conclusions upon some points, the result is that those physicians who have most closely followed these investigations have, almost or entirely, abjured alcoholics as a necessary part of their therapeutic outfit. These elaborate studies of alcohol have convinced many that the nourishing and strengthening properties formerly ascribed to alcoholics existed only in the imagination, and belong to the errors of an age which had no facilities for accurate observation. The food qualities of the grains and fruits, it is now believed by many authorities, are destroyed in the process of making alcoholic drinks. Even the stimulating qualities ascribed to alcohol are denied by many, who class it among the narcotics because of its depressant effect.

When Game Was Cheap in Kansas.

Even as late as 1886 and 1887 venison was as cheap as beef in the fall the choicest cuts selling for 12½ cents a pound, while wild turkeys could be had for 75 cents each when tame turkeys no larger sold for a dollar. Brant or wild geese were hard to get rid of, as no one liked their meat. There was little fishing, not nearly so good as now, and the fish were nearly all perch or cat. The fine herd of 200 head of deer in Uncle Joe Lewis' deer park came from a pair he caught in the early days and penned up in a pasture lot.—Anthony Republican.

Congo Salt Marshes.

Along the central part of the Congo river there are a number of salt marshes. The Africans dig shallow holes in these, whence issue streams of hot water which, on being evaporated, leaves a residue of salt.

RUSH TOWARDS CITY.

POPULATION OF RURAL NEW YORK COUNTIES DECLINES.

No Other State in the Union Shows Such a Large Falling Off in This Respect—Some of the Causes.

Twenty-one of the 61 counties of New York had fewer inhabitants by the census of 1900 than they had by the census of 1890. These counties, which include one-half of the area of the state, showed a falling off in ten years ranging from a few hundreds of inhabitants in some small counties, to several thousands in some of the larger ones.

Essex county, in northern New York, for instance, declined from 33,000 to 30,700 in the ten years. Wayne county, in western New York, famous for apples and mint, declined from 49,700 to 48,600.

By many persons this decline in population was attributed to the continuance between 1893 and 1897 of a period of industrial hard times, the general effect of which is to diminish population in rural or semi-rural districts. In such times, the demand for employment being decreased and the provision for public relief in farming counties being small, the larger cities are sought by needy persons, and these conditions are reflected in the ensuing census.

The years between 1900 and 1905 having been marked by prosperity and abundance throughout the state, it was supposed that the decline in population in interior counties would cease, that some of the former loss would be regained and that, perhaps, improved conditions would be reflected in the census figures of this year, which show the entire population of New York to be more than 8,000,000, an increase of 11 per cent compared with the census of five years ago.

Instead of this, however, the recent by completed state census shows that 21 of the 61 counties have fewer inhabitants than they had five years ago. Some of those which show the largest decrease in five years are Chemung, which includes the city of Elmira, heretofore one of the largest manufacturing towns in the southern tier, and Steuben, one of the most fertile of the farming counties in the same region. The falling off in Chemung in five years was 2,458, and in Steuben 1,097.

Some of the counties of the state which do not show a decline in five years show at least very little gain. One of these is Dutchess, which includes the city of Poughkeepsie, and which is one of the best known of the dairy and farming counties of the state. Five years ago the population was 51,670; this year it is 51,683—a gain of 13 persons.

Delaware county, the chief distiller of which is that it includes more prohibition territory than any other county in New York, has increased from 46,415 to 46,788 only during five years of enormous state growth. Among other counties which have lost in population in the last five years are Oswego, famed for hops; Oswego noted for starch and starch works; Clinton, which includes the city of Plattsburg; Schoharie; Cayuga, which includes the city of Ithaca; Greene; Hamilton in the Adirondacks, Fulton and Madison counties in the interior, and Wayne, which increases its agricultural products every year, but continues to lose steadily in population.

No other state of the country has a large proportion of counties which are falling behind in population as New York, that is, none of the larger states. The explanation of these changes is found probably in the enormous increase in manufacturing interests.

In five years Schenectady has jumped from 46,000 to 71,000, population, Rockland from 33,000 to 45,000, Niagara from 74,000 to 84,000, and Westchester from 184,000 to 228,000. In 15 years the population of New York has increased 21 per cent, yet one-third of the counties have fewer inhabitants than they had 15 years ago.

Squelched.

Many a traveler, who has looked forward to a railroad journey as a season when he need not talk, will sympathize with this just triumph recorded in the London Globe.

He wanted to read, but the man opposite would persist in trying to talk as the train moved swiftly along. After several brief replies the student began to grow tired. "The grass is very green, isn't it?" said the would-be conversationalist, pleasantly.

"Yes," said the student. "Such a change from the blue and red grass we've been having lately!"

In the silence that followed he began another chapter.

Husband's Recompense.

SPREAD OF MALADY.

PNEUMONIA VICTIMS INCREASE IN NUMBER YEARLY.

Medical Authorities Putting Forth Their Best Efforts to Check Inroads of the Fell Disease.

The commission which was appointed last year by the New York board of health to study pneumonia and whose preliminary report has just been summarized by the press, is composed of men of high professional rank, says the New York Tribune. Yet the problems involved in the inquiry are so serious that there is no danger of securing too hastily a grade of talent for their solution. The disease which the commission has been considering has risen into peculiar prominence of late. At one time consumption caused more deaths than any other malady and pneumonia ranked second as a cause of mortality. Within the last ten or fifteen years the two have exchanged places in some parts of the United States, if not in the metropolis. Consumption, as a result of the adoption of more enlightened methods of prevention and treatment, works a little less havoc now than formerly. Pneumonia, on the other hand, finds a greater number of victims in proportion to the population. There is ground for the belief that grip has contributed materially to this result because it is often a prelude to an attack of pneumonia and it easily disorganizes a man for successful resistance to an illness of another nature. However, whatever the cause, the increased prevalence of pneumonia has excited the gravest alarm and perplexity in the medical profession.

The commission is convinced that, like tuberculosis, the more acute type of lung disease is attributable to the presence of microbes and that the latter are disseminated by the drying of sputum from patients. The organisms are not easily borne about by the air so long as they are moist, but afterward they are as easily circulated as dust particles. This fundamental fact shows the desirability of deluging a sick room with sunlight, promoting free ventilation and using a broom only when the floor has been sprinkled.

Some puzzling facts have been elicited in the course of the investigation conducted by Dr. Darlington's experts. One is that pneumococci, the supposed cause of the disease, are sometimes carried in the mouths of persons for weeks without producing any apparent effect. In like manner they are observed in the secretions of patients who have recovered for a considerable interval after the disappearance of other symptoms. This second phenomenon resembles one which often follows an attack of typhoid fever and gives rise to the question how long such persons may threaten the health of their associates and neighbors. Perhaps more light on this matter may be afforded by further observation. Such information should prove useful in the devising of sanitary precautions for a community in which pneumonia prevails.

Prevention is infinitely preferable to cure, but good generals consider what to do if their first line of defense fails. The only remedial agent to which the commission refers is a blood serum derived from an immune animal. Experiments were made, evidently with a view to obtaining hints as to the value of an antitoxin of this kind, other ventures of the same character having been made repeatedly in the last few years. The verdict rendered is a little obscure, but, while the commission seems to have found that a serum, as now prepared, might be serviceable for purposes of diagnosis, it appears to be silent about the remedial and protective qualities of the article. However, if the serum which a few physicians even now employ, is not all that could be desired, improved methods may yet develop one that can be more heartily recommended.

Bagpipes and Gardeners.

"Tom" Jenkinson, head gardener at the Peacock conservatories, whose chrysanthemums are on view to the number of 3,500, is an ardent Scotchman, with a passionate love for all things that come from the Land of the Heather. He and a few kindred souls have organized a bagpipe band that will soon show Pittsburg the possibilities in untamed Highland melody. Mr. Jenkinson is the leader and every man of them wears kilts after the manner born. It is one thing to play the bagpipe, but to do it properly one must have the blood of a proper clan in one's veins to give the true "skirl." Mr. Jenkinson holds that a Scotchman and only a Scotchman can be a good gardener or a piper. "An Englishman learns to be a gardener from the top down," says Jenkinson. "A Scotchman starts from the bottom with a spade digging vegetables. That's why so many gardeners come from Scotland. They learn bit by bit over there."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

How Witch Hazel Shoots Its Seeds.

Do you know that the witch hazel shoots its seeds ten or fifteen feet? If you want a brand-new sensation, bring home some branches of witch hazel having both flowers and unopened seed pods on them and put them in vases of water. The pods burst at the most unexpected times, waking you in the night and peppering you with their hard, shiny, black seeds. Branches that are to be used for a party must be selected with care, to be sure of having perfectly fresh flowers and seed pods that have not opened. If it is possible to do so, cut them the same day they are needed. If they must be cut the day before they are needed, put them in a cold place in water and wrap a damp cloth around the branches, in order to prevent the flowers from withering and to keep the seeds from being expelled too soon.—Country Life in America.

RECRUITS FOR ARMY.

NOT MANY APPLICATIONS AT ELECTION TIME.

The Sort of Men Who Are in Evidence at the Government Enlisting Office and Their Number.

"Recruiting?" The keen-eyed major who has charge of the recruiting office on Third avenue swung around in his swivel chair. "This is the dull season for recruiting. There is no other time of the year when there are so few enlistments."

"For what reason? Oh, the election, I think. The men can get more work and better pay outside just now, so they are not so anxious to join the army."

"Then it isn't always patriotism, that makes them enlist?"

The kindly faced officer shook his head, relates the New York Times. "No. Sometimes it's because they're out of work and hard up. Others join the army through love of adventure, but there are some," the fighting man's blue eyes kindled; "there are some who join for love of country."

A slender, fair-haired boy, who looked nearer 17 than 20, entered the room. He had passed the physical examination and safely run the gantlet of the other departments and had at last reached the final court. The recruiting officer looked the boy over with a military keenness that was not unkindly.

"Your age?" he asked, in a brisk tone.

"Twenty-one," answered the boy.

"Will your parents certify to that?" "I have none," said the youth, steadily, but with a nervous flinching of his soft hat. "I'm an orphan."

The officer asked him several other questions and brought the interview to an abrupt close.

"I can't take you in to-day," he said, and as the boy's face clouded, he added:

"Bring certifications as to your age and character and a recommendation from the last man for whom you worked. If they are satisfactory I'll enlist you to-morrow."

"It's his age," explained the major.

"He doesn't look anywhere near 21."

"But can't boys of 18 enlist?"

"Certainly, but not without their parents' consent. They have to bring papers from their parents and letters of recommendation before we'll take them."

"And married men?"

"Generally speaking, in times of peace they're barred. Unless the colonel of some regiment is willing to take a married man it is against the regulations to enlist him. You understand there's no provision made by the government for the support of the families of soldiers. The men cannot live with their families, and it is out of the question to move them about the country, so the benedicts are practically barred from the ranks."

"Yes, indeed, they sometimes slip in. They desert their wives, and think they can escape in that way. And some of them, if they get tired of army life, or think they are in any danger, desert their wives, as it were, and use them as an excuse for their discharge from the service. Then they are dishonorably discharged for having enlisted by fraud."

"Most of the applicants prefer the infantry and artillery to the cavalry because there is much less work in the first two. A cavalryman has to take care of his horse as well as his equipments; he has the work of the infantryman and about as much again. On the field, when camp is pitched, he has to look out for his horse before he can attend to his own wants. The artillery offers the most advantages. The men like to be stationed at home here along the coast, where most of the artillery is."

"On an average in this office we have from 1,200 to 1,500 enlistments a year. For the past few years San Francisco has broken the record for enlistments, but that is because there are more reenlistments there than anywhere else. All the soldiers brought back from the Philippines land in San Francisco, and the great number of those who again enter the army enlist in the western city."

Turtle in the Mail.

When the last western pouch was brought from the railroad station at Paterson and dumped on the distributing table at the post office a huge snapping turtle walked out of the pouch and seated itself on top of the pile of mail. It then made its way to the stamp department. The turtle had enough stamps on its back to take it to its destination, but the paper containing the address had been lost in transit. Under the rules of the department, the turtle will be sent to the dead-letter office unless the sender can be found, and will forward enough stamps to cover its shipment back. Meanwhile, the carriers' association has adopted the turtle, and, despite the department rules, talks hopefully of being able to relegate the turtle to the soup-pot.—Newark News.

FREE TO SUBSCRIBERS

Beautiful Framed Picture

The Twice-a-Week Republic, of St. Louis, Mo., is giving away a beautifully framed picture, size 5 1/2 by 7 1/4 inches, to every one sending $1 for the year's subscription to their great semi-weekly paper and Farm Progress, a monthly agricultural paper published by The Republic.

This offer is open to both new and old subscribers. If you are taking the paper at present, send in your dollar and have your time marked up for one year and get one of these beautiful pictures without any extra cost.

The pictures are genuine works of art, done in nine colors. Two of them are heads of beautiful girls. One wears a black picture hat and has two roses pinned to her pink bodice. If this one is desired, order No. 10, "The Spring Girl" No. 11, or "The Summer Girl," wears a light brown picture hat, trimmed with light green. She also wears a white and green waist, with a bunch of very pretty flowers at her breast. The remaining picture, or No. 12, is a three-quarter length picture representing "The Winter Girl," with a long coat, boa about her neck and a muff.

The frames are made of rounded metal and are all black. To tell them from real ebony it would be necessary to take them from the wall for examination. The pictures and frames are neat and pretty enough to grace the walls of a millionaire's home. There is nothing cheap or shoddy looking about them. They cannot be duplicated in the retail stores for less than 50 cents. The best recommendation that we can give them is to say that if you are not thoroughly satisfied with your picture they will refund the money for your subscription and pay the postage for returning the picture to them.

If you are already a subscriber to the TWICE-A-WEEK REPUBLIC, or if you want only the agricultural monthly, Farm Progress, send a silver dime for one year's subscription to this big sixteen-page farm and home paper. The TWICE-A-WEEK REPUBLIC is the oldest and best semi-weekly family paper in the country, and Farm Progress is the fastest growing farm monthly in America. Remember that you get both these splendid publications for a year and one of these handsomely framed pictures, all for only $1.

Remit by postoffice or express money order, registered letter or bank draft. Do not send personal checks. Write name and address plainly. Address all orders to the St. Louis Republic, St. Louis, Mo.

Inspect Louisiana Waterways. New Orleans, La., March 25.—Members of the house committee on rivers and harbors are going to make an inspection this week of the waterways of Louisiana. Several of the members have arrived in New Orleans and the others are expected to-morrow. From this city the party will go to the mouth of the Mississippi and examine the locks from the river into Bayou La Fourche and Bayou Plaquemine, going thence to the mouth of the Red River. The Atchafalaya river will then be visited and the committee will sail down this stream to the gulf. The party will next go to Shreveport and sail down the Red river from there to New Orleans. A visit will also be made to southwestern Louisiana for the purpose of inspecting the salt mines, oil fields and rice and sugar plantations of that section.

STEAMBOAT MAN WAS DROWNED

TOM PARKER, COLORED,
FOUND WATERY GRAVE
YESTERDAY.

While Carrying Ice on the Towboat
Margaret He Fell Overboard and Went Under.

Thomas Parker, colored, was drowned yesterday afternoon at the river front between Broadway and Jefferson streets, and as yet his body has not been recovered, although the stream has been dragged.

Parker was employed as one of the crew aboard the towboat Margaret that is run out of this city by the Ayer-Lord tie company, of which Captain Henry Baker is manager for the Paducah office on South First street. The steamer was being supplied with stores, preparatory to departing for a trip up the Tennessee river after ties. The Margaret was lying just outside the barges of the West Kentucky Coal company docks below the wharfbow, and Parker was helping carry on the stores. The darky had some ice, and had started to step back and let another of the crew walk across the plank leading from coal barge to steamer deck, when he missed his footing and fell overboard.

He was badly frightened and floundered around frantically. Others of the crew pitched boxes, ropes, etc., to him in the water, but he was so scared he grabbed none of them, and was quickly sucked down under the waters by the strong eddy between barge and boat hull.

Parker was a negro well known about Paducah as being an honest and good working darky. For hours his body was dragged for, but never recovered.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY GOT SETTLEMENT YESTERDAY

THE CITY IS ALLOWED $394 TO REIMBURSE THE PUBLIC
TREASURY ON ACCOUNT OF THE DAMAGES AND COSTLY DELAYS ENCOUNTERED BY THE MUNICIPALITY BY THE GENERAL ELECTRIC PEOPLE NOT GETTING HERE WITH-IN THE CONTRACTED DATE ALL THE NEW EQUIPMENT.

The city officials yesterday made settlement with Mr. Alley, the representative of the General Electric company, for the money due that concern by the city of Paducah for the electrical equipment and supplies furnished this municipality when new dynamos and other machines were installed at the public power house on Madison between Eighth and Ninth streets, and when there was also put up at all the street corners the 200 electric lights of the new type. By the settlement yesterday with Mr. Alley the city is allowed $394 damages for the delays and other costly inconveniences occasioned the municipal authorities by virtue of the electric concern not getting the new equipment here on the contracted date.

The new outfit sold Paducah by the electric company cost something like $12,000, part of the purchase price being paid on arrival of the first consignments of goods, while other payments have been made from time to time. The company agreed to have certain parts of the new outfit here at stated periods for installation and relying on their arrival Superintendent Keebler would have all the old machines out of the way on that date for the new ones, but the latter not getting here on time the superintendent would then have to renew the old arrangements to keep the lights going until the outfit arrived. Many delays occurred that proved costly to the municipality, and when all the new equipment was finally put in and finished the board of public works made out a claim of $965 against the electric company. This included $25 cost for changing a machine and $150 damages. Yesterday Mr. Alley came to settle with the city, which still owed his company $3,780, the total unpaid portion of the entire purchase price. After conferring with the Paducah authorities he agreed to do away with the $150 damage and $25 cost charge and allow the municipality one-half of the remainder of the original $965 claim. This allowance the city gets is $394, which deducted from the $3,780 the city owes the General Electric people, makes the company receive $3,386 now as settlement of all claims.

When the outfit was bought of them the city agreed to pay six per cent interest on all deferred payments, but by this settlement of yesterday it is agreed the electric firm will not make any charge of interest on the deferred portion of the purchase price.

The bill of $3,386 will be allowed Mr. Alley's company next week when the council and aldermen meet.

TOMLINSON DIES IN WIFE'S ARMS

A FEW FRIENDS BURY HIM HIM FROM AN UNDER-TAKER'S SHOP.

Great Contrast—Thousands Attend
Funeral of His Victim, County
Attorney McLean.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 25.—Bill Tomlinson, desperado, gambler and slayer of County Attorney Jefferson Davis McLean, died last night in the hospital division of the Tarrant county jail here. Tomlinson, during the last six hours of his life, had alternate periods of consciousness and delirium. His wife remained at his bedside to the last.

Early in the day he spoke kindly to Policemen Bell and Lloyd, who fatally shot him in the pitched battle after the McLean tragedy.

"Bell," he said, "I came near getting you; my pistol was bad and that saved you."

The last hour of Tomlinson's life was spent on a cot, half embraced in the arms of his wife.

Tomlinson placed his arm about his wife's waist and in that position passed away. A few of his old-time companions followed his body from a little chapel, at an undertaker's establishment, to the grave, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremonies lasted only long enough for the aged sexton to place the dirt on the coffin.

At the same hour the funeral of Jefferson Davis McLean, late county attorney, uncompromising foe of gamblers, victim of Bill Tomlinson's pistol, took place from the family home.

Contrast in Attendance.

Thousands of men attended the ceremonies at the house and the grave. Among the number was a United States senator, Charles A.
Culberson. His father, David B. Culberson, more than a quarter of a century ago succeeded W. P. McLean, the father of Jefferson Davis McLean in congress from the famous Jefferson district in East Texas.

GRAND LODGE GOLDEN CROSS

ABOUT ONE HUNDRED DELE-GATES ATTEND THE GATHERING.

Colonel Joseph Potter Is Delegate
From Hope Commandery, and Mr. Weemer From Banner.

The Paducah lodges of the United Order of the Golden Cross are now preparing for the annual gathering here of the Grand Lodge for the state of Kentucky April 11-12,
at which time the session will be conducted in the Red Men's lodge room on North Fourth between Broadway and Jefferson street. In order to get some matters in shape for the convention, Grand Commander R. A.
Barnes for the state arrived here
Sunday to spend several days con-fering with the Paducah brethren.
He goes back home from here, but returns the day before the grand body opens, to preside over the deliberations.

Colonel Joseph E. Potter is the delegate from Hope commandery of this city, while Mr. Henry Weemer is delegate from Banner commandery, to the grand body, which will remain in session for two days. There will be about 75 or 100 representatives here, coming from every city in the commonwealth.

The grand lodge will wind up with a grand banquet at the assembly hall.

"Tips" on Good Clothes

A great many men have already resolved to come here for their Spring Suits!

These men are "posted" and know just what they want and where to get it!

They save themselves time, and they save themselves trouble and money!

Others will look around, uncertain where to go!
If they happen to look at our suits, we'll get their money, sure!

If they buy without seeing our suits, it'll be their loss as much as ours!

Our styles are far from the ordinary ideas, embodied in the majority of ready-to-wear suits.

The swing of the crowd of suit buyers comes this way more and more!

When we say $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 or $20.00 for a suit, you must see the suits hitched on to these prices to appreciate our offerings!

We trust you'll be in for a look!

CUT HIS THROAT.

Riley Jones, Aged 86 Years, Tried to End His Life By Suicide.

Riley Jones, aged 86 years, very infirm and partially blind, tried to cut his throat Sunday morning while in the rear yard of the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Knight, of 180 Woodward avenue in Mechanics-burg. He suffered from melancholia and cut his throat badly, severing several small blood vessels, which bled profusely, and his recovery is a matter of doubt. His little grandchild had led him out in the yard and there while resting against the fence he tried to kill himself, and fell from loss of blood. His family think brooding has partially unbalanced his mind.

The City of Saltillo went up yesterday en route from St. Louis to the Tennessee river. She is due out of the Tennessee about next Saturday.

anniversary of the great battle of Paducah.

JUST A MISTAKE, THAT'S ALL

In making out our last import order for musical instruments from the European factory we mistook the price of a single violin for the price of a dozen. When the invoice came in we found that we had ordered one certain violin that would be cheap at $100.00.
The shipment has now reached us and we have made a special price of $85.00 on this cremona-toned instrument.

It is a White Elephant on our hands but we would be glad for interested musicians to come and try it.
